

'Make Your Mark' Youth Conference

Imagine a place where students exchange ideas, values, and challenges — a place where the resources to build a better tomorrow are all around. Where living in a sustainable community is not a dream, but a certainty.

Students will find all of this at Make Your Mark is a conference by and for youth. Issues such as climate change, ecojustice, public health, and social entrepreneurship will be addressed. Participants will meet those who are already working in the area of sustainability. They will showcase their talents and projects. And they will share research and work with others to develop new ideas.

Make Your Mark is a three-day event for high-school and university students taking place in the spring of 2009. The first day highlights social entrepreneurship and how young people can make a living while making a difference. Day two will be a fun-filled learning experience during which students will take part in a variety of workshops with presentations by authorities on sustainability and students who have undertaken successful sustainability projects. Day three will feature the Sustainability Games, a team-based event to inspire and empower participants to make change in their daily lives.
